

Destination Indiana

Expanding Horizons & Networks: Connecting to the World

Workshop with EducationUSA advisers

Friday, May 23, 2008

8am-5pm

Beacon Hotel, Washington DC

REGISTRATION FORM

For this event, Destination Indiana has been asked to conduct this workshop for over 100 EducationUSA advisers from 60+ countries. This group is coming to DC for the national NAFSA Conference that begins on Monday, May 26. We are being asked by the US State Department to help facilitate the different sessions including practical topics of constructive website reviews, marketing EducationUSA, and connecting advising centers with US study abroad programs. We will also have a college fair event on Capitol Hill co-sponsored by Senator Richard Lugar, who may make an appearance to meet the advisers.

Destination Indiana will pay the $50 registration fee cost for up to two representatives for each institution who wishes to participate. If a university wishes to send more than two representatives, we ask that you cut a check for $50 (for each representative over two) made out to Ball State University for deposit in our Destination Indiana account to cover costs for the day.

Please list below the names, titles, departments and email addresses of those representatives from your campus who will be attending.

DEADLINE FOR REGISTRATION for this event is April 21.

Institution:

Participant name	title	department	email address
-------------------------	--------------	-------------------	----------------------

1.

2.

3.

Please return this form to Marty Bennett, at mabennett@bsu.edu in order to confirm your institution's participation in this event.